When to pay

Programme Fees may be paid in one of two ways:

- either a single payment, covering the registration fee and all course fees; or
- the registration fee plus the fees for the courses you select to study in the first year. To complete your registration, you must pay at the same time both the registration fee and the fee for at least one course. In subsequent years, only the fees for any new courses are payable.

History 2019-2020 Fee Schedule

The registration fee is payable in order to be registered with the University as a University of London Student. The closing date for initial registration is 30 November.

The course fee is payable for each course to be studied. This fee includes entry to the first examination for that course.

The closing date for continuing registration and course fees in subsequent years is 1 November.

An examination resit fee, payable when entering for an examination to resit a previously failed course, is payable before 1 February in the year of examination.

A fee may also be payable if you take part in an online seminar on a second occasion.

Additional fees payable to the University

A non-refundable fee is payable if you wish to make an application for (discretionary) recognition of prior learning, for applicants who wish to have prior learning considered with a view to being exempted from taking a course. Such applications may be made throughout the year.

*A non-refundable late registration fee of £100 will be charged if payment is not received by the deadlines specified for registration.

Other costs

In addition to the Programme Fees payable to the University, you should budget for textbooks (this may well be in the region of £300 per year if you are taking four courses in one year) and tuition costs (if studying at a Recognised Teaching Centre).

You should also budget for the fee charged by your local examination centre. Examination centre fees are not included within the fees set out above. This fee will vary from centre to centre and you should contact your proposed examination centre(s) for details of their fees to factor them in to the overall cost of completing the programme. Using this link, you can find contact details for all our examination centres. The University of London is only responsible for the examination centre fee charged at London centres. You will be charged £70 per sitting when using London examination centres.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

The University is required to add Goods and Services Tax (GST) to registration and module/course fees paid by students resident in certain countries. Further information can be found on our web page.

All programme fees shown are net of any local VAT, Goods and Services Tax (GST) or any other sales tax payable by the student in their country of residence. Where the University is required to add VAT, GST or any other sales tax at the local statutory rate, this will be added to the fees shown during the payment process. For students resident in the UK, our fees are exempt from VAT.
