What to pay

Where applicable, you are required to pay the following Programme Fees in full and in accordance with the University's deadlines:

- The module or dissertation fee is payable for each module or dissertation to be studied. This fee includes first entry to the assessment for that module/dissertation.
- An accreditation of prior learning application fee is payable by applicants who wish to have prior learning considered with a view to being exempted from taking a module.
- An examination resit fee is payable when entering to resit a previously failed module.
- A second Virtual Learning Environment fee is payable if you are participating for the second time (the fee varies depending on whether participation is for a module, for a re-written dissertation or for a new dissertation)
- An extension of registration fee is payable if you are permitted to extend your period of registration for a stand-alone Individual module.

When to pay

- The Programme Fees above refer to the 2018-2019 session only and are effective from 1 March 2018.
- Module/dissertation fees must be paid not later than 31 August or as soon as the results of any modules taken in that year have been published for students starting the programme in September, or by 30 November for students beginning in January.
- Students must pay relevant fees by the following deadline dates:
